

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT

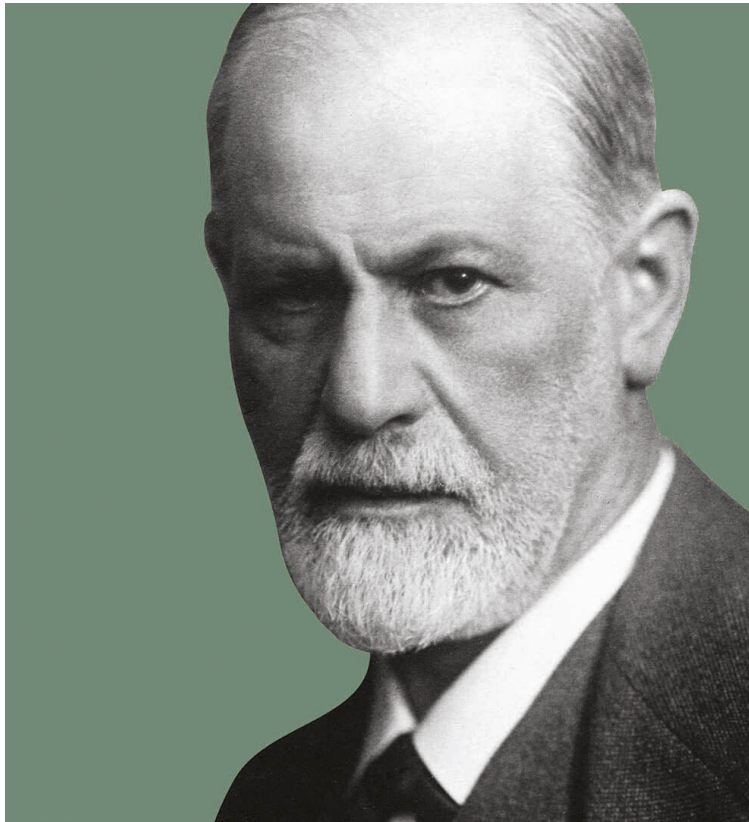

What is personality?

Whether personality is innate or learned from one's experiences in childhood and beyond?

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT

- Introduction to Personality
- Theories of Personality
- Personality: Culture and Health

FREUD'S PERSONALITY THEORY

Freud's Structure of the Human Psyche

Id:
Instincts

Ego:
Reality

Superego:
Morality

ID, EGO, SUPEREGO ROLE-PLAY ACTIVITY

Read the following situation and role-play the interchange between the personality elements.

You are reaching the end of the school year, and final exams are approaching. You have done well but you are struggling in your Chinese Language class, particularly with the Writing paper. You are still feeling hopeless about your writing performance even after discussing with the Chinese Language teacher Ms. Chan in the staff room. As you are ready to leave, you notice that Ms. Chan dropped the “Chinese Language Writing Examination” paper on the floor, but she didn’t see it. What will you do next?

ID, EGO, SUPEREGO ROLE-PLAY ACTIVITY

Rules:

- Role-play ids, ego and superegos
- Ids and superegos may only speak directly to your own egos
- Egos may only speak to other egos

ID, EGO, SUPEREGO ROLE-PLAY ACTIVITY

Discussion

- How was your experience in situations of conflict?
- What factors did you consider to make your final decisions?
- Anything else you want to share or ask?